

IP Rights Agreement

For Individual Projects in the Department of Computer Science at the University of Sheffield.

I Benjamin Magill, working on the project “Automatically Detecting Flaky Tests using Execution Data in Rust” acknowledge that the origin of the idea for the project is my supervisor’s, Phil McMinn and agree:

- Not to present the idea behind the project as my own and
- To acknowledge the origin of the idea in the project materials and in any derivative work.
- If any project materials were not developed by me in their entirety, to acknowledge their origin and associated license agreement.

If materials of the project are to be made available to others, I agree to include copyright notice on any source code file stating that;

- The software is copyrighted in my name and that of the University of Sheffield.
- The origin of the idea for this project lies with the Project Supervisor.
